

STAFF VACANCY

Sample

- Position: Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach
- Responsibilities: The Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach at the University of Louisiana at Lafayette will be responsible for aiding the Head Strength Coach with the development and implementation of comprehensive strength and conditioning programs for the University's 16 intercollegiate athletic teams and 375+ student athletes. The assistant strength coach will be directly responsible for men and women's teams as assigned by the head strength coach. The Assistant Strength Coach will work collaboratively with the head strength coach, head sport coaches, team doctors, and athletic trainers to design strength and conditioning programs as well as injury prevention and rehabilitation programs for assigned sports. In addition the Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach will be responsible for aiding in the training and recruitment of new graduate assistants, student assistants, and other part-time assistants. Other duties will include maintaining accurate records for each team and individual athletes, ensure the strength and conditioning center is appropriately maintained and monitored. Recruiting related functions for prospective student athletes may be required occasionally. The successful candidate will uphold the integrity and adhere to the rules of the University of Louisiana at Lafayette, the NCAA, and the Sun Belt Conference.
- Qualifications: Bachelor's Degree (Master's Preferred) in Exercise Science, Physical Education, or combination of related experience and degree. A minimum 2 years of experience in strength and conditioning is desired, preferably at the collegiate level. In addition, the successful candidate must also possess strong organizational and communication skills. Working knowledge of basic spreadsheets and word processing programs. Experience in working with a diverse population and staff.
- Salary: Commensurate with qualifications and experience.
- Appointment: On or after July 1, 2006
- Applications: Applications will be received until time appointment is made.
- Send resume to:
Rob Phillips
University of Louisiana at Lafayette
201 Reinhardt Drive
Lafayette, LA 70506